

Everyone has their best lover

Everyone has their best lover, no matter how small it is. In the town of Doolin, there was a cottage in the middle of the town. In that cottage, winter was extremely cold. There were a couple living in a little poor old house. The wife had a very serious disease which she would be cold like ice in winter. Her husband tried to warm her up in winter, but winter, there was no way that could help her get through the winter. One day, a stranger went by their house and met the husband. He told the husband that the only way he could keep his wife warm was that put her in warm water for two hours at night, and the water should keep the same temperature during that time. The husband knew that in that kind of freezing cold weather, there was no way that the water could be the same temperature in two hours. He spent his whole time in making a hot tub which could keep the water warm in two hours. But his wife couldn't wait for that day to come. She died of coldness. That year was the coldest winter ever. After his wife's death, his husband was depressed, but he didn't give up. After 10 years, he made it. He named the hot tub "Phoebe", which was his wife's name. He knew there were many people suffering from the coldness, so he told others how to make that hot tub. Many people went through every winter thanks to the "Phoebe" hot tub.
